

Unlock your Path Crossroads and Key Spell

Use this spell to slam the door on a period of misfortune and unlock a new, positive path forward.

This spell works best when cast during a liminal time - such as the first or last day of a month, during a New Moon, or at a Sabbat.

Items needed: Key, Candle, Hecate Incense

After the sun has set, place your key and your candle on your altar (If you don't have a formal altar, you can make a simple moon altar)

Pick up your key and hold it in your non-dominant hand. Say:

I am leaving behind misfortune and pain.

I close the door and turn the key.

The bad luck is locked behind me.

Light your candle. As light and warmth enter your space, know that a brighter and better path is opening up to you.

Pass the key into your dominant hand, symbolizing that you are taking control and accepting the path ahead. Say:

I welcome good fortune and blessings.

I open the door and hold the key.

Good luck is now in front of me.

Allow the candle to burn out (or respectfully extinguish it).
Leave the key on your altar to remind you of the path you have unlocked. Alternatively, you can put it on a string or chain and wear it as a positive reminder.
